Listening and Communication Skills

Leaders must learn to listen attentively to be effective. Exercises in listening both as a group, and in one-on-one conversations heighten the awareness of the importance of listening. Students also learn how to use active listening skills to improve their communication skills.

Teambuilding and Co-operation

Students will have several opportunities to practice team building. They may be asked to complete the spider's web, get across poison peanut butter or save the world from a toxic dump! The process involves brainstorming, listening, and taking others people's interests to achieve a common goal.

Inter-personal Relations

Students learn to acquire a deeper understanding of the feelings and needs of others. They learn to earn the trust and respect of others and to inspire and motivate them to help others in a kind and respectful manner.

Building Trust

The students will have to go through a series of trust exercises that allow them to focus on the needs of the whole group rather than the individual.

Creative Thinking and Event Planning

Brainstorming techniques teach young potential leaders how to come up with innovative ideas and develop their creativity. The students will participate in a number of initiatives and creative exercises. This promotes divergent thinkers. Students learn how to plan and implement an activity such as a fundraiser, dance, benefit, etc., through a series of "apprentice tasks"

Confidence Building

The session will help students improve their self-image and gain beneficial skills, enthusiasm and inner strength. Students learn to solve problems creatively and effectively. Confidence-building exercises help students become aware of their uniqueness and their own leadership qualities.

The Leader in You

Students will learn about different leadership styles and find their inner leadership potential through a series of activities and quizzes.

Time Management and Goal Setting

Students will learn how to prioritize and juggle their various responsibilities and activities. Students will also learn how to successfully set goals and create tools to achieve their goals.

Nutrition and Healthy Active Living

Students will learn the benefits of proper nutrition and healthy lifestyle with an emphasis on nutrition for performance.

Innovative Thinking

Students will learn how to think on their feet and "outside of the box" through a variety of hands on activities and initiatives.
